FAQ- ABOUT ULTRASOUND

FYI Did you know that Ultrasound imaging is a noninvasive medical test that helps detect changes in the appearance of organs, tissues, and vessels or detect abnormal masses, such as tumors.

Ultrasound imaging uses high-frequency sound waves to produce pictures of the inside of the body. The sound waves help determine the distance of an object, its size, shape, and consistency (whether the object is solid, filled with fluid, or both). Unlike an X-Ray, an Ultrasound exam does not use ionizing radiation. The images are captured in real-time and can show the structure and movement of the body's internal organs, as well as blood flowing through blood vessels

How should I prepare for my ultrasound exam?

A: You should wear comfortable, loose-fitting clothing U/S exam.

Additional preparation depends on the type of examination you will have. For some Ultrasound exams, you may be asked not to eat or drink for up to 12 hours before your appointment. For other exams, you may be asked to drink up to six glasses of water two hours prior to your exam and avoid urinating so that your bladder is full when your exam begins.

You will receive your preparation instructions for your exam when the exam is scheduled.

Q How long will the Ultrasound exam take?

A: Most Ultrasound exams are completed within 20-40 minutes.

Lauren Quinn

Front desk/scheduler анананан каканан каканан как

Good communication skills is a must for a great receptionist. My name is Lauren Quinn and for five years, I have been a receptionist at Medica. The 🔀 biggest life-skill this job has 🔛 taught me is communication. By answering the phones and 🔛 speaking with physicians, patients, and insurance companies, I have learned 🔀 how to speak to many 🔂 different types of people. Not only has this prepared me for my future as a nurse, but this lesson has also created a more 😨 confident individual. Way back in 2008, I was too shy to 🔀 ask people how they would like to pay their bill, or ask the 🙀 doctor's office to fax us those 🔛 notes we so desperately need 🔛 to get authorizations. Today, I 🔀 say "cash, check, credit, or bill in the mail" and "hey, please don't forget to send us those notes" all with a smile on my face. I have learned that people can hear a smile the phone. I have through that people feel learned special when kindness and concern for their needs is given with sincerity. Most of all, I have learned that with 🗱 confidence and knowledge in 🗱 your job, it is easy to enjoy your work.

Thank you for all your referrals—we appreciate them!
